ORDER OF AFFIRMANCE

This is a proper person appeal from a district court order, after trial, concerning child custody, child support arrearages, and miscellaneous other issues. Eighth Judicial District Court, Family Court Division, Clark County; Cheryl B. Moss, Judge.

This court will not disturb the district court's custody decision absent a clear abuse of discretion. Sims v. Sims, 109 Nev. 1146, 865 P.2d 328 (1993). This court reviews a child support order for abuse of discretion. Wallace v. Wallace, 112 Nev. 1015, 922 P.2d 541 (1996). We will not disturb on appeal district court rulings supported by substantial evidence. Williams v. Williams, 120 Nev. 559, 566, 97 P.3d 1124, 1129 (2004). "Substantial evidence is that which a sensible person may accept as adequate to sustain a judgment." Id. Under NRS 125B.080(7), the parents are required to equally bear the costs of the child's uncovered medical expenses. See also NRS 125B.020(1).

Having reviewed the appellate record and appellant's proper person civil appeal statement, we conclude that the district court did not abuse its discretion when it awarded respondent primary physical custody of the children and required appellant to pay respondent child support arrearrages, his share of the child's medical expenses, and the cost for repairing a door damaged by appellant. Accordingly, we

ORDER the judgment of the district court AFFIRMED.
