ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

On January 14, 2015, we entered an order to show cause why this appeal should not be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction. In particular, we noted that it did not appear that a final judgment had been entered and that the district court had not certified as final under NRCP 54(b) the order that is the subject of this appeal. Appellant filed a response and respondent filed a reply, as directed.

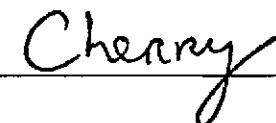

Both parties acknowledge that no final judgment has been entered and that the order that is the subject of this appeal has not been certified as final pursuant to NRCP 54(b). The parties dispute who is responsible for the failure to obtain a written order certifying the order appealed from as final under NRCP 54(b), but it is apparent that no such order has been filed. Therefore, this appeal is premature and we lack jurisdiction over this appeal. NRAP 4(a)(6). Accordingly, we

ORDER this appeal DISMISSED.
